Helmut Sturm, Infernalezza, 1962-63, Mischtechnik auf Leinwand, CAMEC | Centro Arte Moderna e Contemporanea La Spezia, Cozzani collection

The work of Helmut Sturm (1932-2008) is closely linked to the Selinka collection of the art museum. For the first time, the retrospective exhibition gives a comprehensive insight into the multifaceted work of the painter Helmut Sturm (1932–2008) and sheds light on his various creative phases from the late 1950s until his death. His pictorial spaces, which are powerful in color and form, have been characterized throughout his life by an open, dynamic painting process and the free connection between the representational and the abstract. Sturm understands the canvas as a »spatially moving playing field« in which unity and expansion, construction and spontaneous gestures are combined with »all kinds of junk from the toy box of reality«. As a co-founder of the artist group SPUR (1957-1965), one of the first avant-garde movements in post-war Germany, he made a significant contribution to the spirit of optimism in the 1960s. In the five decades of his work, the long-standing professor at the Munich Art Academy was also one of the key players in the artist communities SPUR WIR, GEFLECHT and KOLLEKTIV HERZOGSTRASSE and was briefly associated with the Situationist International. He has made the permanent questioning of his painting his life's work. The exhibition and an extensive catalog were created in close cooperation with the Kunsthalle Emden and the Lothar Fischer Museum, as well as in cooperation with the Helmut Sturm estate.

Both the Selinka collection of the Ravensburg Art Museum and the collections of the cooperation partners include important works by Helmut Sturm and the artist group SPUR.
